

3.10.0.2 Learning Abroad

Century employees intending to advertise, recruit, or accompany (e.g., supervise, escort, lead) Century students on travel/learning abroad experiences must consult with the Century director of global education and the academic vice president at least 6 months prior to the departure date. Any Century College sponsored travel requires the approval of the academic vice president in consultation with the global education director.

The director of global education must be consulted even when travel is not officially sponsored by the college but involves Century College students.
