

Certificate
Total Number of Credits: 15

Program Description: The Women and Gender Studies Certificate program offers an interdisciplinary field of study focused on the rich diversity of women's experiences across time, cultures, and social/economic classes. In Women and Gender Studies courses, students and faculty reexamine and reevaluate assumptions about the role of women and gender in society, uncovering their central role in the human experience. The program is a valuable addition to any academic field and provides a career advantage in many areas. The Women and Gender Studies Certificate is an excellent preparation for transfer students wishing to major or minor in Women and Gender Studies at other institutions.

The Century College Women and Gender Studies Certificate has articulation agreements with Women and Gender Studies departments at
 Minnesota State University - Mankato, Metropolitan State University, University of Minnesota -
 Twin Cities, College of St. Catherine, University of St. Thomas, Hamline University, and Augsburg College

All courses are part of the Minnesota Transfer Curriculum (MNTC).

Note: A maximum of two courses transferred from other institutions can be used to help fulfill the 15-credit Women and Gender Studies Certificate. The MNTC goal numbers a course fulfills are listed in () after each course title below.
